

MobileTEENgps Installation Instructions

1. Getting Started-Package Contents

MobileTEENgps unit with internal cellular and GPS antennae. Package also contains a power supply cord for OBDII diagnostic port connection and zip ties.

2. Connecting the power cord to the device and to the OBDII Diagnostic Port

Locate your vehicles OBDII Port under the dashboard. The "OBD2" is typically located under the dash on the driver's side, but you may need to consult your vehicle's manual. Plug the power cord to the device and the other end to the OBDII Port.

3. Testing your MobileTEENgps

Prior to securing the device under the driver's side dash with the zip ties, place the device on top of the dash. The device will proceed thru a series of light sequences as it calibrates and powers up. After 5-10 minutes, the 2 LED's on the back of the unit should be solid green and solid orange once the unit is receiving good wireless signals.

Now it's time to perform a test of the unit's tracking functionality on the vehicle. Be sure to have fully installed the unit with zip ties under the dash of the vehicle and so that it does not physically interfere with any of the controls of the vehicle. To start the tracking of the vehicle, it may need to be driven a short distance (500 yards or more). Once back from driving the vehicle with the unit installed, login into your account at www.MobileTEENgps.com. The system will show the path driven for the vehicle and it current location.

4. VoiceLocate

If you are mobile and away from your computer, you can access location and speed data from any phone. Simply dial our toll free IVR at 888-744-0527. The system will ask for your phone number. Provide the number of record on your account. The system will then ask for a PIN. The universal PIN for the IVR is 1234. The system will now address you by name. Follow the voice prompts

5. The ForceField feature

This feature is also activated and de-activated only thru the IVR. Details of this feature can be seen on the website at www.MobileTEENgps.com.
